Naturepanel Wins Leading Trade Award

Naturepanel, whose parent company is Edinburgh-based Grant Westfield, was named Best Surface of the Year at the KBBFocus Awards, held on the 6th of December 2024 at The Brewery in London.

The KBB Focus Awards, which celebrate leading Kitchen, Bedroom, and Bathroom brands and products, is a highlight of the industry's calendar and shines a light on the brands leading the way over the last 12 months. The Surface of the Year Category is one of the most hotly contested categories, with household names entering.

The Naturepanel Collection, which launched in March this year, has already become a best seller for Grant Westfield. The collection serves as a modern, easy to maintain alternative to traditional slat walls that are currently on trend. The collection has three décor choices – Bleached Cuneo Oak, Brown Cuneo Oak and Warmia Walnut. Each décor offers a unique natural charm with delicate integrated sapwood elements and fine knots to create an authentic appearance, but with the added benefit of effortless maintenance and 100% waterproof, making it the ideal choice for bathrooms.

John Mortimer, Managing Director at Grant Westfield says: "It has been a fantastic year for the company, with recognition given to our brands through several award wins. The KBB Focus win is a major trade award for our sector and is the icing on 2024."

“We were shortlisted against some fantastic brands and leading products - to be named the overall winner is a testament to the innovative design, high quality and sustainable properties of Naturepanel.
